

Steps to Becoming a Certified Community Health Worker

What is a Community Health Worker?

A Community Health Worker (CHW) is a frontline public health worker who is a trusted member of and/or has an unusually close understanding of the community served. Community Health Workers are a type of Traditional Health Worker.

Traditional Health Worker

Traditional Health Workers (THWs) are trusted individuals from their local communities who may also share socioeconomic ties and lived life experiences with health plan members. THWs have historically provided person-centered and community-centered care by bridging communities and the health systems that serve them, increasing the appropriate use of care by connecting people with health systems, advocating for health plan members, supporting adherence to care and treatment, and empowering individuals to be agents in improving their own health.

There are five types of Traditional Health Workers:

- 1 Birth Doulas
- 2 Community Health Workers (CHW)
- 3 Personal Health Navigators (PHN)
- 4 Peer Wellness Specialists (PWS)
- 5 Peer Support Specialists (PSS)
 - There are four categories of Peer Support Specialist: Youth Support Specialist, Family Support Specialist, Recovery Peer, and Mental Health Peer.

4

Complete your criminal background check

Once you have submitted your THW application and all supporting documents, you will receive an email with a link from the Background Check Unit (BCU) ORCHARDS requesting your permission to conduct a background check.

NOTE: These emails often end up in your junk/spam folder, so please continue to check those folders as well. If you do not receive an email within 1 to 2 weeks after submitting your THW application, and you have checked your spam folder for an email from “BCU ORCHARDS,” contact the OEI THW Program at thw.program@odhsoha.oregon.gov

- The background check process may take 4-8 weeks and all costs are covered by the Oregon Health Authority.
- Once submitted, CONTINUE to watch for emails in case more information is needed.
- Pay careful attention to the instructions in the email. You only have 21 days to complete the process. If you do not complete the process within 21 days, you will need to request a new link.
 - The background check is required even if you have had one in the past.
 - If you have lived outside of Oregon in the past five years, you will also need to submit fingerprints. There may be additional instances in which ORCHARDS requests fingerprints. Follow the instructions from ORCHARDS.
- OHA OEI THW program will notify you by email with a Determination Letter:
 - IF APPROVED, keep this email for your records. It contains your THW registration number and certification expiration date. Your certification is good for three years from date of issue. You will need to meet CEU requirements to recertify. OHA OEI will automatically add you to OHA's THW registry:
Home - Traditional Health Worker Registry \(oregon.gov\)
 - IF DENIED, ORCHARDS will notify you and provide instructions on how to appeal. The appeals process only involves you and ORCHARDS, and not OHA OEI.
