Description

The Health Evidence Review Commission (HERC) Prioritized List guidelines often reference specific versions of National Comprehensive Cancer Network (NCCN) Guidelines. NCCN Guidelines are updated more frequently than HERC Guidelines. As a result, HERC Guidelines often reference older versions of NCCN Guidelines that may no longer be in use.

Policy/Criteria

It is the policy of Trillium Community Health Plan (Trillium) affiliated with Centene Corporation® that the most current NCCN Guidelines are used to determine medical necessity.

I. Nurse review
- A. The nurse applies the most current version of the applicable NCCN guideline.
  1. NCCN guidelines are published on www.NCCN.org.
- B. If a HERC Guideline Note or Diagnostic Guideline references an older version of the applicable NCCN subset that is no longer in use, the nurse applies the most recent version instead.
  1. If the most recent version is met, the nurse approves.
  2. If not met, the nurse sends this request (referencing the most recent NCCN guideline version) to the Medical Director for review.
